Lyle Geurts welcomed about 50 people to the Moose Can Gully Nature Walk and Picnic at 10:30 AM. Information on Missoula Neighborhood Councils and their role in city government was given. A nature guide put together by the fourth-graders at Chief Charlo School featuring trees, shrubs and wildflowers found in Moose Can Gully was discussed. Susie Graham, one of the fourth-grade teachers and Bryan Williams from the Montana Natural History Center were introduced. The hike then started in Garland Park and continued up Moose Can Gully. On the way, 45 fourth-grade students stationed at 23 locations pointed out and gave short presentations on trees, shrubs, and wildflowers found in their Nature Guide. At the end of the walk there were burgers and ice cream cones for everyone.
