a. Wildfire Mitigation Competition- Nicole Henningfeld, Director of Saws & Claws

- Nicole Henningfeld has recently moved back to the Bitterroot area and is working on establishing a 501c3 that focuses on Wildfire Mitigation. She is working on empowering folks to do a better job at home hardening, protecting their homes from embers and zero scaping.
- She is trying to establish a neighborhood completion wherein each of Missoula's neighborhoods would compete against each other to ensure their neighborhoods are wildfire prepared.
  - May is Fire Awareness Month but due to Graduations and other events happening in May the competition would be in June.
  - The needs/goals of each neighborhood would differ dependent on what the risk factors might be.
  - One of the outcome goals is to bridge the gap from have and have nots to neighbors helping neighbors.
  - Overall goal is that Missoula County would be able to compete against Ravalli County in future years.
- She plans to distribute information about these competition via social media, word of mouth and have activities on educational platforms such as Kajabi or Canvas.
- Follow up discussion and questions:
  - Rick asked if Nicole had connected with City/County folks yet.
- Plan moving forward: advertising via grant funds, sharing on social media, and reaching out to tv and radio for free spots. The target audience is younger people and older people now don't want extra costs and who are worried about additional work/up keep.
  - Yes, I have connected with folks from the city and county such as Dave Strohmer, Fire Adaptive Missoula, Missoula County, Missoula Fire Department, City Zone and Planning and more.
  - Rick stated that he appreciates this as we have an aging unnatural urban forest in Missoula and thus fire danger is a real threat. He encourages Nicole to dig into the history of what Missoula was and what we are today as that could be a way to get folks interested in participating.

- Community Forum Liaison(s) Jenny and Shirley will share this role to ensure between their busy schedules someone can attend. (4th Thursday at 6:30 PM in Council Chambers or via Zoom)
