Kalina

Kathryn Auge- & Claire: from Missoula in Motion

Sunday Streets – Proposal is to host this event on the N. side

Typically is 1 mile of closed off streets

F2F has been the site for Sunday Streets 2x

Lewis and Clark -

University District – have also been sites for Sunday Streets

September 7-- Weekend after labor day-

Map / route was shared and there was group discussion about the ideal route

Part 2 of discussion: AARP community change grant: mural painting in Cooley circles as part of Sunday Streets –

12-4:00

Grant Deadline to help fund this event is due March 4th –

Grant is up to $12,000

Group is a bit concerned about overcommitting the group-

Also concerned about funding -

The Sunday streets date is close to the annual / general meeting – so we should consider combining Sunday Streets with our General Meeting. Group discussed having a prior short NS/WS meeting in April or May that is more business / updates oriented.

Public Works and Mobility: will be hosting a meeting to share and discuss details about congestion and reroutes.

Lauri Hart: upcoming projects in the neighborhood. N. Dickens to McCormick and a couple of others.

Transportation safety projects: Scott street, Phillips, to turner

Bob Giordano recommendation for roundabout alternative that would help preserve parking on Phillips and calm traffic while enhancing neighborhood character and safety.

Upcoming January 23rd Community Forum: Fairgrounds update and focus—

They are trying to be a community connector.

One thing worth noting is how we are lucky to have a neighborhood focused fairgrounds –

Lucky the city didn't redevelop the fairgrounds and move it outside of town.

1 million users per year –

Jerry Marks Center – Rocky Mountain Gardens is here.

Theme this summer is Lake Bottom Bash – Glacial lake Missoula

Carnival is the big money maker for the fairgrounds –

82 percent diversion for zero waste efforts –

Next Community Forum is Feb. 27th. MRL triangle development project and PROST updates.
